Copyright Assignment
The undersigned authors transfer all copyright ownership of this manuscript to The Editorial Council of Journal of Prosthodontic Research, in the event the work is published. The undersigned authors warrant the article is original, does not infringe upon any copyright or other proprietary right of any third party, is not under consideration for publication by any other journal, and has not been published previously. The authors confirm that they have reviewed and approved the final version of the manuscript.

Institutional Committee Approval
Submissions must comply with the following policies: 1) Research involving human subjects should be conducted in conformity with the Declaration of Helsinki, and should be certified that ethical and humane principles of research have been followed; 2) Freely-given informed consent from the subjects or patients must be obtained; 3) The ethics committee at the author’s institution must approve the protocol for any research performed after the committee was established; 4) Research involving animals should be conducted in conformity with the various laws about prevention of cruelty to animals. The institutional committee responsible for monitoring experiments using animals must approve the protocol for any research performed after the committee was established.

Patients Permission
A letter of permission must be obtained from the subjects and patients no matter if the article appears in the published journal or in the online journal.
