

CME Credit Request for Manuscript Review

Those who serve as reviewers for the journal, Ophthalmology®, may claim up to three AMA PRA category 1 CME credits™ per review, up to a maximum of five reviews or 15 CME credits per calendar year. CME credit may be earned for reviews of original contributions to the medical literature that require multiple reviewers, and which are at a depth and scope that require in-depth knowledge of both the literature and the evidence base. The Editor of Ophthalmology® will determine which articles qualify, and which reviews are of sufficient quality and timeliness to be eligible for credit.

To claim credit for manuscript review, complete the information below, sign and submit the form as an attachment to aaojournal@aao.org after completing your review.

The American Academy of Ophthalmology is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The American Academy of Ophthalmology designates this journal review activity for a maximum of 3 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.
